The speaker says: "I learned that the guys in the kitchen always mess things up and you have to endure the consequences with unhappy customers. So it was a quick lesson in trying to figure out how to keep your customers satisfied." Speaker 1, Robin Carnahan, therefore had to make up for the mistakes others had made.

1 + 2 + 3

The speaker says: "At the end of a shift my feet were swollen, my legs were shot and my back was a mess of aching muscles." Speaker 2, Joan Stearns, therefore was in pain all over.

The speaker says: "On Saturdays, the day when the resorts changed residents, the truck stop was packed all day with a line out the door." The place where speaker 2, Joan Stearns, worked was therefore overcrowded on certain days.

The speaker says: "Then a man sat down, took one look at me and said, 'what's the matter, your boyfriend hit you? Ha, ha, ha'. And I said, 'No sir, I had my eye removed'. This man felt terrible, I could see. And I said, 'Sir, I was just joking, I really didn't have my eye removed', but I don't think he believed me 'cause he left me a big tip." Speaker 2, Joan Stearns, therefore told a customer she had had an operation.

4 + 5 + 6

The speaker says: "It was a hot summer, but the adobe building that housed the restaurant was cool. And my aunt was teaching me her recipes for pozole and green chile enchiladas as we cooked." Speaker 3, Mary Balzer, was therefore shown how to make special dishes.

The speaker says: "But best of all, that summer the movie crew of 'Red Sky at Morning' with Claire Bloom, Richard Thomas and Desi Arnaz Jr. was filming in Galisteo. And they stopped at the restaurant. I couldn't believe my luck. I was 16 and totally in love with Desi and Richard. That experience made the rest of the summer bearable, though I worked the hardest physically that I ever have." Therefore, having famous people call in was an absolute highlight for speaker 3, Mary Balzer.

The speaker says: "I've not been a waitress since, but I really appreciate waiters and waitresses whenever I go out to eat." Speaker 3, Mary Balzer, therefore has great respect for serving staff.

7 + 8 + 9

The speaker says: "I worked at a Perkins Cake and Steak. I worked the overnight shift with a bunch of my friends from high school. And we did it because the tips were so good. People would come in after a night of drinking and a lot of young girls waiting tables, I guess, would elicit some pretty good tips." Speaker 4, Michele Norris, therefore chose the job for the extra money you could make.

The speaker is asked "Good memories?" and she replies: "Yeah. Good memories." Thinking back for speaker 4, Michele Norris, it was therefore a positive experience.

The speaker says: "I still look at my fingers and I think I lost my fingerprints from carrying hot plates of pancakes and coffee. But we had a lot of fun." Sometimes speaker 4, Michele Norris, therefore wonders if the job left its mark on her.
