

Korrekturhinweise

The white rabbit

	akzeptiert	nicht akzeptiert
0	look after Amy
1	there are no distractions  it was not distracting no distraction from studying no distractions no distractions at Susan's of no distractions she could concentrate well she is not distracted she wouldn't be distracted there is no distraction there is no distractions there nothing distracts her there was no distraction there was no distractions there were no distractions there wouldn't be distractions would be no distractions	Correct answers need to mention why Susan's was a good place to study.  Alice can learn there Amy had to sleep Amy went to bed having a ulterior motive it keeps her studying it's the older sister learning for exam new house of an ulterior motive of her psychology exam of quietness of the new house psychology exam she can learn she can learn psychology she could learn she could learn psychology she could study she could study there she fell asleep she had enough time she had to study she has to study she really enjoyed it she was all alone Susan went out the house was new the narrator can study the narrator had an exam the time to learn there was no Amy time to study
2	Disney films captivate her  captivated her Disney film captivate her Disney films are captivating Disney films captivated her Disney films captivated them Disney films captivates her Disney films captives her he loved Walt Disney's it captivated her it captivates her liked Disney films she liked the film	Amy dropped off Amy eventually dropped off Amy fell asleep Amy went to bed determined to good use didn't want to study Disney films capitare films captivate her films captivate me her eyelids drooped down she carried Amy upstairs she started studying she won't go sleeping the kid crashed out

	she liked those films she likes Disney films such films captivate her the film captivate her	Wonderland
3	fell asleep fall asleep fall asleep during studying she fall asleep went asleep began to sleep slept slept fell to sleep	bizarre creatures dreamed (It is not possible to dream intentionally; "unintentionally" does not collocate with "dream".) dreamt of strange creatures drooped her eyelids dropped her eyelids drunk to much had a dream had bizarre dream her eyelids dropped maked fun of Susan saw a white rabbit saw the rabbit slept in (has the meaning of oversleep and is not correct) started dreaming urge to follow rabbits was wandering was wandering in some was wandering sinister garden woke up
4	she hadn't highlighted anything anything wasn't highlighted didn't highlight any sentences hadn't highlighted a sentence hadn't highlighted single sentence having no sentences highlighted her text wasn't highlighted highlighted nothing no highlighted sentence no sentence was highlighted no words were highlighted not one highlighted sentence not to have studied nothing highlighted nothing was done yet nothing was highlighted she didn't highlighted anything she had highlighted nothing she had learnt nothing she had not studied she had not worked she had read nothing she had studied nothing she had underlined nothing she hadn't done anything she hadn't done much she hadn't highlighted she hadn't highlighted it she hadn't highlighted sentences she hadn't learnt anything	a lack of highlights (difference in meaning: highlights refer to dye in one's hair) a single sentence a stiff neck a white rabbit any highlighted sentence chilled Chardonnay her opened binder her something highlighted a single sentence it was a dream she had been asleep she had been sleeping she had drunk the wine she have not write that anything was highlighted that she didn't write that there is nothing that there was nothing the binder lay open the empty wine glass there is no text very confused what she had seen

	she hadn't learnt it  she hadn't read it  she hadn't studied it  she hadn't studied anything  she has done nothing  she hasn't highlighted anything  she hasn't marked anything  she learned nothing  that nothing was highlighted  that she did nothing  that she highlighted nothing
5	to rub her eyes  to blink hard amazement  blinked hard  blinking and rubbing eyes  can't believe  can't believe her eyes  disbelief  not believing it  not to believe it  rubbed her eyes  rubbed and blinked hard  rubbed her eyes  rubbing and blinking eyes  rubbing eyes and blink  rubbing her eyes  rubbing her eyes hard  rubbing, blinking the eyes  she couldn't believe it  she didn't trust eyes  she rubbed her eyes  she was amazed  she was surprised  surprise  that she couldn't believe  to blink hard  to blink in disbelief  to mistrust her eyes  to rub the eyes  to rubb the eyes  to rubbe her eyes  to rubbed her eyes	being afraid  can't believe your eyes  running the tap  she couldn't believe them  she was shocked ('shock' is a much stronger emotion than "surprise" and moral in nature, therefore it is not accepted)  she was tired  shock  to drink water  to follow it  to resist it  to watch it  typical  very shocked
6	to follow it follow it  to follow  to follow him  to follow the rabbit  to walk after  wanted to follow  wanted to follow it	one glass of wine  to be wearing her glasses  to be wearing her shoes  to escape  to follow them  to have her glasses  to have her shoes  to resist it  to see it  to see the darkness  to sleep  to watch it vanish  wake up

7	strange creatures bizarre creatures bizarre creatures all night bizarre creatures around her half animals strange creatures chattering strange half-human creatures the chattering creatures the strange creatures	a big white rabbit Amy an irrational urge chattering nonsensically drinking tea learning Freud's dream theory no wearing shoes reality and dream such creatures the animals the rabbit the rabbit's chatting the strange creature wearing no shoes yelling animals
8	was not a dream belonged to a lady belonged to a neighbour belonged to Susan's neighbour belonged to the lady belonged to the neighbour belonged to the neighbours belongs to Mrs Carroll belongs to their neighbour came from Mrs Carroll had been real had really been there is from the neighbour is real is the neighbour's one is the neighbour's pet lived next door must have escaped really exists the neighbours one was from her neighbour was from their neighbors was genuine was Mrs Carroll's rabbit was no hallucination was no illusion was not a imagination was probably the neighbour's was real was the lady's was the neighbour's was the neighbour's pet was the neighbour's rabbit was the neighbours	Amy was the rabbit can do all things do not wear anything escaped from the garden is Amy's rabbit is not real is the cleverest is the cleverest one is the cleverest rabbit owns Mrs Carroll reminds her sat in their garden still exists was a dream was an illusion was her own was in her dream was in the neighbourhood was just a dream was their pet was there before was very clever wasn't real
9	the narrator's joke Alice's joke her aunt's joke her aunt's reaction her funny aunt the joke	a bad joke Alice Alice dream and reaction Auntie Alice hearing the story her joke (not clear enough, could mean Amy's joke)

the joke Alice made the joke Alice told the joke from Alice the joke of Alice the joking narrator the narrator's answer the narrator's comment this joke what Alice said what Auntie Alice said what the narrator said	her rabbit laughing laughing at her joke laughing at the joke learning the news Susan Susan's joke that thought the Chardonnay the clever rabbit the invitation the joke from Amy the joke of Amy the narrator the new white rabbit the purpose of the visit the story of her the white rabbit their laughing visiting the rabbit what she said
--	---

Begründungen

0

The text says: "Susan, my older sister, and Amy, my little niece, had only just moved into their new house when I saw the white rabbit. I had offered to stay over to look after Amy [...]." The narrator was therefore at Susan's in order to look after Amy.

1

The text says: "I knew there would be no distractions at Susan's to keep me from studying [...]." Susan's was therefore a good place to work because there were no distractions.

2

The text says: "Disney films captivate me and [...] I finished watching alone [...]." The narrator therefore watched the film to the end because Disney films captivate her.

3

The text says: "But the exertions of the day caused my eyelids to droop, and the next thing I knew, [...]. It must have been well after midnight when I woke, [...]." The narrator therefore unintentionally fell asleep.

4

The text says: "My binder lay open on my lap; I hadn't highlighted a single sentence." Therefore, when the narrator looked again at her text, she noticed that she hadn't highlighted anything.

5

The text says: "I did all those things you're supposed to do when you can't believe your eyes: I rubbed them and blinked hard." The narrator's first reaction when she saw the rabbit was therefore to rub her eyes and blink hard.

6

The text says: "It [...] hopped off slowly and deliberately. I felt an irrational urge to follow it." When the rabbit moved away, the narrator therefore really wanted to follow it.

7

The text says: "The strange creatures had plagued me all night." In her dreams, the narrator was therefore annoyed by strange creatures.

8

The text says: “[...] the lady next door [...] got a rabbit - a big white one! [...] It can even get out of its cage on its own [...] I felt a rush of relief.” On hearing Susan’s news, the narrator therefore assumed that the white rabbit was not a dream.

9

The text says: “Amy [...] laughing at the joke louder than was absolutely necessary.” Amy was therefore very amused by the narrator’s joke.