In job interviews, companies are often more interested in a candidate's experience abroad than in school grades. Many students, however, find it difficult to decide whether a year abroad after school is a good idea or not. Working Teens, an international online magazine for students, wants to publish an article to help students decide. They have invited their readers to send in an article. The best one will be published on the magazine's website.

You have decided to send in an article. In your article, you should:

- give reasons why experience is often more important than grades
- describe disadvantages of spending a year abroad
- suggest ways in which students can spend a year abroad

Give your article a title. Write around 250 words.
